Kimberly Hunn is the founder of Edgewalker Group International, a collaborative network of business leaders and consultants dedicated to transformative learning and organizational development.

Kimberly is a Master Certified Coach, dialogue facilitator and entrepreneur with experience in the design and delivery of innovative learning systems and cultural change initiatives. She has served as a senior mentor coach with a leading international coach training organization for twenty years and has developed collaborative projects on leadership and organizational architecture in the United States, Chile, Spain, Switzerland, UK, France, Dubai and Turkey.

Working with executives and business owners, Kimberly offers an integrated approach to leadership development to achieve conversational competence, team alignment and the fulfillment of company strategy. She played a key role in the European World Café in Bilbao, Spain to facilitate a citywide dialogue on urban renewal and is the author of the Edgewalker Transition, a yearlong program for executives initiating a professional transition.

Currently, Kimberly is developing sustainable business practices with her clients to adapt more successfully to a changing economic climate while preserving strong and cohesive relationships within an organizational framework. Her work is innovative, bold and engaging.

With an academic background in international relations and cultural anthropology, Kimberly is passionate about cross-culture integration and systemic global solutions. She is also co-founder of two non-profit initiatives in Mallorca, Spain; Mallorca Goes Green which promotes environmental sustainability in local communities and Proyecto 50K which supports low-income families through micro loans and personal leadership training.

Kimberly lives in Mallorca, Spain where she enjoys hiking, reading, music and spending time with her family. Her two adult children work and live in London and Boston. Fluent in Spanish and English, she loves to travel and learn about people through cultural exchange.

Coaching Philosophy

Clients receive a committed partner in the development of professional goals and personal aspirations. Kimberly believes that all transformative learning must be an authentic expansion of our capacity to connect and create. She considers leadership most powerful when values are modeled and transparency promotes inclusion and team cohesion.

Her integrated approach combines the generative power of language to improve leadership skills, somatic (body) learning to establish sustainable practices and emotional awareness to enhance team alignment and personal satisfaction.

With this coaching methodology, clients are able to achieve clarity of priorities and direction, efficiency in the management of time and energy, and an ability to inspire others by example.
